Washington and to obtain a majority of these things, which have been a bone of contention ever since the return of the railroads to private operation.

Explaining that the outlaw strikes of asst spring, from which some roads have not recovered fully, were due to the efforts of unscrupulous agitators, who preyed on a part of the railroad workers by reason of the delayed answer to requests for increased wages. Mr. Loomis said the award of the Labor Board, generally satisfactory, answered the one serious complaint of labor. Body blows, however, were dealt to the esprit de corps of American railroad men, the effects of which are slow in wearing off, although the transportation act of 1920 was a help, Mr. Loomis said.

After pointing out that this act offered an opportunity to decentralize the railroad work an opportunity to decentralize the railroad some proportunity to decentralize the railroad some proportunity to decentralize the railroad work and opportunity to decentralize the rai [From U. The corrected reading of the barometer (reduced to sea isvol) at New York on Tuesday, Aug 17, 1920, at 8 AM, as reported by the United States Weather Bureau, was thirty and seven hundredins (30,07) inches. This closely approximates seven hundred and sixty-three and wight-tetnis (763.8) millimetres. Captains of all vessels now lying in or near the ports of New York and Brooklyn can advantageously use the above official data for observing whether their own barometers require any considerable correction or adjustment.
